His Excellency-With reference to this latter minute, before it is referred to the Finance Committee. I wish to say a few words in reference to this matter, insamuch as I took upon invest the responsibility of not asking colonel Beaumout to undertake the work reforred to. A short time previous to the Governor's departure Colonel Beaumont had an interview with him and angrested the blasting little clothing upon the body when found. In was an experiment in regard to which he would naturally very anxious that this impediment. we may so call it, to navigation, should be rely attended, was held at Singapore on the 21st | moved, and requested Colonel Beaumont to ult. to pass resolutions supporting the unofficial stay here for a fortnight, that is the interval order to draw up a report on the blasting of submitted the report to him. In this report experiment would be successful and that these Rocks cou'd be got rid of, but he estimates the cost of getting rid of them at £3,000 besides dertain other expenses in connection with a steam launch and the necessary apparatus. The exact machinery Colonel Beaumont would have made use of if he had had it with him was not to be found in the Colong, but he expressed the hope in his report that with such machinery as could be procured here the experiment night prove a success, and he believed such would be the case. After my interview with him, in which he told me that he was not detained here to carry out the arperiment he would leave almost immediately. 1 consulted two or three of the leading members of the community and also the members of the Executive Council and the general impression was that an expenditure of this description would scarcely be justified by the experiment Colonel. Beaumont was willing to undertake. I felt and Queensland, and was probably on her certain as I am sure the Governor did. that Colonel Beaumout possessed a considerable amount of scientific knowledge, and it was quite possible the Bokbara Rocks would have been got rid of it he had been permitted to carry out his experiment, but at the same time, bearing in mind the number of expensive objects now being myself justified with the scenty information I was possessed of in asking Colonel Beaumont to undertake this business. The Sir Richard E. Webster refuted the charge minute which has been read to you proposes his expenses for the fortnight he remained here. Of course such could not be refused him. He remained here at the request of the Governor in order to draw up a report and the charge which he mentions as due to him does not seem very excessive. The Governor also wrote a minute previous to his departure stating that Colonel Beaumont should have something for the report he had drawn up on the subject. Colonel Beaumont has suggested that for this report—it is rather lengthy and contains a certain amount of scientific knowledge—ha should be paid the sum of $50. That will be a matter into which the Finance Committee will examine and will recommend to the Council such sum as they think Colonel Beaumont power for certain officers to take the recognis-The Senate of the United States has ratified should receive for the drawing up of this reort. While speaking on this subject I refer to another matter. One of the principal reasons why Colonel Beaumont was not asked to undertake this experiment was as I have already mentioned, that we have a nonsiderable number of big works going on in the Colony on which expenditure will be necessary. Among others is one of which this Council has already heard, namely, the building of a new ball. room at Government House. When Estimates were considered last year the of $25,000 was inserted for this purpose. Since then the Surveyor General has gone into the question of how much the hall-room will cost, and in his estimate the cost considerably exceed the sum of $25,000, in fact the estimated cost is $40,000. The Governor expressed a desire before his departure that the Council should be made acquainted with this fact. He is most surious, not on his own so-count, but on account of the community general. v. that this ball-room should be built without lelay, because there is no doubt the accommodation at Government House for large entertainments is insufficient. Therefore it is very expedient a new ball-room should be built. inagmuch as only $25,000 was mentioned in the Estimates the Governor did not like the ballroom to be commenced without its being an-I nonneed to the Council that the cost would be considerably in excess of the amount, mentioned in the Estimates. The Counoil is not asked now, nor is it my intention now to submit a vote for the increased expenditure. It is unlikely the sum already voted will be expended before the end of the year. should the ball room be commenced it will be necessary that an increased sum should be serted in the Estimates for next year. reason I now mention this to the Council is that I entirely concur in the view the Governor took that public works should not be commenced or proceeded with that require a larger sum than the Council has voted, without the knowledge. of the Council that the cost will probably exceed the amount voted. I need say no more but the Council is now aware of the probable cost of ATTACK BY NATIVES ON A FRENCH the Council wish to examine the plans, to show them to him, or to give any information in connection with the ball-room which members are designs of receiving. I behave already alluded was passed. Justices of the Peuce have not sat and acted in the same way as Magistrates, but what the practice has been is this, that where the necessity has erisen, owing to pressure of business /which might arise in case of riots and numerous offenders, the Governor has directed Justices of the Peace to sit and act together as ! in this, those whose experience is longer than mine will correct me. What this provision does is simply to express the practice which has prevailed, and it is my intention when the Bill is in committee to also provide that the power to issue warrants for the apprehension of offenders should be also retained by Justices of the Peace. As regards part III, that deals with | held after the meeting of the Legislative Coun summary offences, that is to say, those offences which the Magistrate has to deal with himself Secretary presiding. and not commit for trial. The provisions are supply many omissions. I don't think I need refer to them particularly, except to sections 29 | and 90, which provide a much more satisfactory mode for the Magistrate taking minutes of the proceedings before him and the registration of all matters that come before him. As regards the general provisions there are considerable improvements. Hitherto there have been no provisions for the mitigation of nunishment or the discharge of the defendant without punishment. Here provision is made that in cases of a paltry description the Magistrate may discharge the defendant without punishment: "no ver is also given to mitigate the punishment, and also where the conviction is for the payment of money to allow that payment to be made by instal ments or to be secured by recognisances. Then in sections 39 to 48 there are contained very useful provisions as to the issue of committal and distress warrants. I may say the want of these provi sions has been very much felt. Magistrates or their clerks have hitherto been acting on the provisions of the English Acts that are not in force here. In this letter Lunky said his mon had arrested an Annamite examining the tracks which led to his refuge, that this man had confessed that he was sent by the General from Bau ninh, and that immediately he prisoners were delivered an expedition would sent to recover the money paid as ransom and to destroy the band. Under these circumstances he refused to give up the captives and would only do so if the Protectorate would promise a truce of ten days, to commence from the time the $50,000 was paid and the Messrs. Roque Costs, and Wing-fat-cheong given up-a truce which would enable him to reach the frontist and place his men and his dollars beyond pursuit. CHINESE IN AUSTRALIA.

Mr. Theo Sampson, formerly of Canton, writes to the London and China Express as follows:-Sir.—It was stated at the recent meeting of the Royal Colonial Institute, and it is a statement that is often made and accepted without qualification or dissent, that the Australians object to the immigration of Chinese. During a recent visit to Victoria during which I made it my particular business to inquire into matters connected with the Chinese, I found that the objection to Chiness immigration is by no means universal in that colony. The principal objectors are the labour aristocracy and the politicians who seek to gain their votes; on the other side are the employers of labour generally, farmers, fruitgrowers, musters of stangers, women burdened with domestic cares, and sometimes even diggers and unskilled labourers, who are not bound to accept the doctrines dictated by a labour union. On this subject I wish to say a few words. If may be sa d that a month's stay in Victoria does not enable me to form a just opinion of affairs in that colony. Though many persons have written a book on a country in which they have stayed less than a month I acknowledge my inshility in this respect, and have therefore confined myself to recording the opinions of residwise of permitting Chinese to emigrate to those colonies.
